MONDAY, MARCH 1, 1858.

THE FIRST WARD SCHOOL.—This fine and flourishing school had a repetition of their birth-day celebration on last Saturday evening. Under the supervision of their able teacher, Major Roberts, this school has grown to be a cherished institution with the inhabitants of the First Ward. Indeed, so popular has it become that the Board of Trustees were obliged some few months back to increase the accommodations by the addition of another story to the building, and it now looms up the highest and most imposing edifice in that portion of the city.

The exhibition consisted of declamations and dialogues, interspersed with agreeable music. So attractive was the entertainment that the building was crowded to excess, and many were forced to retire without the opportunity of witnessing the performances.

The repetition was as great a triumph as the preceding exhibition, and fully establishes the reputation of this school as high as that of any other in the city. These exercises tend greatly to establish and popularize the public schools, and we should like much to see them extended to other parts of the city. The citizens of the First Ward have just cause to be proud of their energetic and efficient teacher, and he has cause of gratulation in the noble and flattering manner in which the patrons of his school have affixed the seal of their approbation to his efforts in the cause of education.

The object of the exhibitions was to raise means for procuring a bell for the school-house. We understand the receipts were $183, which is more than sufficient for the purpose.

ARREST OF COUNTERFEITERS.—A great haul of counterfeiters was made in Lafayette, Ind., on Friday, no less than thirteen being captured altogether. Eight were arrested in a coffee-house together and about $4,000 of counterfeit bills found upon them.

At Indianapolis, on Friday, a fellow named Joseph Wood was arrested for attempting to pass spurious two and a half dollar pieces. On his person were found a quantity of \$2 $\frac{1}{2}$ and \$5 spurious gold coin and several hundred dollars of counterfeit \$10 bills on the State Bank of Louisiana. United States Commissioner Rea committed him to jail in default of surety in the sum of \$3,000 to await an examination.

CAPT. J. W. WALES'S COMPANY.—The Madrid journals of the 3d state that the authorities of the city had seized, in a house near the palace, 500 revolutionary proclamations, 400 muskets, some swords, and a quantity of cartridges. The Congress was continuing the debate on the address. Some of the journals complain that it had given rise to unseemly squabbles between certain members. In the Senate, it was expected that a violent attack would be made on General De la Concha's administration of Cuba. It was believed that a bill would be presented to the Cortez authorising the province of Navarre to execute, at its own expense, a railway uniting the French and Spanish lines.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Saturday, Feb. 24.—Sam A. Baker, who was arrested on a charge of stealing a saddle from Mr. Bowles, was ordered to be examined before a justice, the offence having been committed in the county.

John and Sarah McBride were arraigned for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. John was required to give bail in $200 for three months, and Sarah in $100 for two months.

Isaac, slave of John Odell, had helped himself to a load of wood belonging to a free negro. It appeared that Isaac sold a load of wood to the free negro some time ago, and could not get his money for it. Isaac saw another load before his door, and took it for pay. He was discharged.

SUSPECTED FELONS.—The Chief of Police has arrested two noted characters who have recently arrived in this city. Their names are Dr. Roberts, alias Lane, and one Dennis. They will have a hearing in the City Court this morning.

THE KENNSAELER (IND.) GAZETTE.—Notices the death of the oldest daughter of Gen. Simon Kenton. She died in Jasper county some two weeks ago.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river continues to rise. Last evening there were nearly 7 feet water in the canal and 5 feet on the falls. The accounts which reach us from above lead us to anticipate a sufficient rise to enable boats to ascend the falls. This would be very desirable just at this time, as the Portland avenue has been closed to make some necessary repairs.

"A Skipper" has a communication in regard to a regulation established by the board of underwriters on Friday, charging on boats passing through the canal 1/2 per cent. more insurance than on those starting from Portland. If any one feels aggrieved by it, he can reply through our columns on the same terms as "A Skipper." This regulation evidently places only the boats that pass through the canal on an equal footing with those that do not. The latter nearly all belong here, and we think they should be patronized in preference to those from other places.

The A. M. Runyan, a splendid boat built this season at Cincinnati for the Nashville and New Orleans trade, arrived yesterday morning with a large cargo, mostly for Cincinnati. As she is too large for the canal, she has to reshore at Portland. The John Gaul was chartered yesterday to bring her freight up. The Runyan will leave for New Orleans this evening. Her clerk is Mr. Bell, formerly of the Ella, an accommodating gentleman. We thank him for a copy of the manifest.

Capt. McGill informs us that the David White will leave for New Orleans to-morrow without fail. The White affords capital accommodations and is well officered.

The Fanny Bullitt is due from New Orleans to-day.

FOR HENDERSON.—The regular packet Scioto No. 2 will leave for Henderson this evening. She is a fast boat. We thank her officers for a copy of the manifest.

The Dove and the W. A. Eaves will leave for the Kentucky river to-day. The Eaves has lately gone in that trade, and will leave every Monday for Frankfort and every Thursday for Cogar's Landing.

The Telegraph No. 3 is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day.

We are indebted to Mr. Gwathmey of the John Gaul for a manifest.

From a statement in the St. Louis Republican we see that the Pacific had another run with the Capitol. The P.'s passengers have prepared a card for publication, in which they reflect severely upon the officers of the Capitol.

The report of the sinking of the St. Louis and New Orleans packet J. E. Woodruff is confirmed.

The following paragraphs we copy from our Cincinnati exchanges of Saturday:

The Madisen lost her barge when about 20 miles above Louisville, and did not miss it until an hour afterwards. She returned 33 miles after it, and found it at the flats.

The Ohio on her recent downward trip from Marietta, on Tuesday, found the E. M. Bicknell, bound for Parkersburg, hard aground at the foot of Buffington chute, lying square across the channel, and the floating ice piling and cutting into her side. She grounded on Monday, and had been abandoned when the Ohio came to her rescue. The Ohio took her freight ashore, consisting of 117 hds tobacco, 300 sacks wheat, and 250 lbs flour, and then went back and pulled the Bicknell off, landing her safely at Ravenswood. The Bicknell having been abandoned, the Ohio will claim salvage. The bulk of the freight was shipped from Maysville and points above. The Bicknell was built here last summer, and is insured in this city for $8,000.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—At New Orleans all the stock of the Pacific Railroad, on which instalments were past due, was sold at public auction on the 17th. Consequently all stock not paid up in full, on which instalments are part due, is worthless to the holders.

The preceding notice appeared in the Evening Bulletin, and occasioned a good deal of astonishment on the part of those holding stock in the enterprise. It will be remembered that a paper in Marshall, Texas, started a report sometime ago that the company had failed. Many of its stockholders were awaiting further developments before making any more payments, but it appears now that they waited too long and have lost all they had paid on it. There have been thousands and thousands of dollars invested in this stock all over the country, and the order of the board, which we copy, will cause some excitement:

OFFICE SOUTHERN PACIFIC R.R. CO., NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19, 1858.

Notice is hereby given that this Company, on the 17th instant, for the purpose, at public auction, to the highest bidder for each all the stock of the sub-branches, and capital stock of this Company upon which instalments were past due and unpaid, and all persons are hereby notified that all such stock is now null and void, and will not be recognized by this Company. By order of the Board:

GEORGE C. LAWRSOON, Secretary.

CAPT. J. W. WALES'S COMPANY.—The Madrid journals of the 3d state that the authorities of the city had seized, in a house near the palace, 500 revolutionary proclamations, 400 muskets, some swords, and a quantity of cartridges.

The Congress was continuing the debate on the address. Some of the journals complain that it had given rise to unseemly squabbles between certain members. THE BELLS OF THE HEART.

The flowers were sweetly sleeping Upon their mother's breast. And the stars, like loving watchers, Shone bright above their rest;

The leaves with a light rustling sound Through the boughs to the sleeping flowers, Made a soft serenade to the sleeping flowers, When up through the shadows and lights of the past Came melodious music with joyous haste;

As a sweet sounding bell.

On the spirit it fell,

And wild gushing mirth with magical art In ravishing strains chimed the Bells of the Heart.

The breath of the sleeping blossoms

Shed rich perfume around, But their dreamless sleep was broken

By the soft, bewitching sound—

The leaves unshod their music with tremulous haste

To catch on their harps the sweet sound as it pass'd;

Its low ringing tone, like the laughter of rills,

Won to delight e'en the grand old hills,

And the silvery chime,

Without measure or rhyme,

Swell'd nature to rapture, with exquisite art,

As on its hushed ear chimed the Bells of the Heart.

They were singing a merry song

Of childhood's golden hours,

When the sky was cloudless, splendor

Unbroken by showers,

When the Fountain of Hope gush'd forth from above,

And received the beautiful Flowers of Love,

When o'er the young son spandr'd the Iris of Truth,

That bat'd in its bright hues the day-dreams of youth;

And the fairy-like sound,

Echoed blithely around,

Till the buds smiled in glee, and the leaves with a start

Join'd in the sweet clime of the Bells of the Heart.

Then a change came o'er the strain,

Like a wail for the dead,

The heart-bells a requiem sad

Chanted over hopes dead;

In wild plaintive tones like the notes of a dove,

EVENING BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 1, 1858.

DEATH OF CAPT. SUMMERS.—We learn from our dispatches that Capt. James Blair Summers died at the Spencer House, in Cincinnati, on Sunday morning. Everybody familiar with the history of steamboating in the West is acquainted with either the person or character of Capt. Summers. Even before the application of steam to river navigation he chose the precarious career of a boatman, and has spent his long and eventful life upon the Western waters. He commanded one of the first steamers that ventured to make a trip from New Orleans to the Falls of the Ohio at a time when four weeks was thought to be "good time" between the Balize and the rapids of the Ohio, and he was permitted to more than realize his brightest anticipations in regard to steamboat navigation. It is remarkable that he has occupied a captain's position in the mail-line between this city and Cincinnati for a period of thirty-two years, and that throughout his extended career no boat under his command has ever met with a serious accident. Capt. Summers died as it were "on watch," having made his trips regularly almost to the day of his death, on the steamer Superior, which boat was under his command. He died suddenly from the effects of a cold, which he contracted while on duty. The announcement of Capt. Summers' death will touch many manly hearts with sadness, for his fame was universal throughout the country. Capt. Summers was a man of great energy and integrity of character, was beloved by many and respected by all who knew him. There will be tears in his memory and prayers for his eternal peace.

A MINISTER AND WIFE ARRESTED FOR HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—The Rev. Samuel Smith, master of the Collegiate School at Clifton, and formerly second master of Bishops' College, England, and his wife, have been arrested for highway robbery and attempted murder. It appears that the wife of Mr. Smith was a Miss Mills, and about nine years ago, before her marriage, numbered among her suitors a Mr. Leach, contractor. The match was broken off, and Mr. Leach married another lady, who died some time since. Mrs. Smith, having ascertained that Mr. Leach had become a widower, addressed a letter to him, in which she stated that her husband had recently died, and invited him to renew the intimacy which formerly existed between them.

After several letters had passed, Mr. Leach agreed to meet the lady at Bristol, on Sunday, 31st January. They met at the Bristol station, and took tickets for Yale, where they alighted, and Mrs. Smith proposed to cross the common to her residence instead of taking the high road. The station-master advised against this on account of the darkness of the night, but finding her strenuous, took a lantern and accompanied them to the point from which they would have to cross the common. In a short time, the lady professed to have lost the way, and in a few minutes after Mr. Leach was assaulted by a man.

Being a strong man, he, however, got the better of his assailant, and his cries for aid were heard by two of the railroad men, who came up. The assailant was found to be the Rev. Mr. Smith, the husband of the 'ady, but he managed to make his escape. The detective force proceeded to the house of Mr. Smith, and arrested the parties. On their track were found a widow's cap and a six-barrel revolver pistol, loaded and capped, near the spot where the struggle took place.

In searching the house a parcel containing a shirt, collar, satin scarf, and pocket handkerchief, all marked with Mr. Leach's name, was found.

MAIL ROBBER ARRESTED.—Mr. Prentiss, agent of the Post-Office Department, succeeded last Wednesday in arresting Dr. John D. Walker, postmaster, at Rockford, Tuscarawas county, Ohio, charged with robbing the mail and forging. Dr. Walker is an old man, 65 years of age, and has a large family married and settled around him, and has hitherto been highly respected.

SUICIDE.—On Saturday afternoon, Dr. James H. Moore, a resident of Cynthiana, Ky., was found dead in his room at the Spencer House, in Cincinnati, having swallowed prussic acid the evening before. He is said to have been a highly respectable gentleman. No cause is assigned for the act.

It is said to have been decided in Washington that the first forty-four captains, including the name of Goldsboro; the commanders, including De Camp, and the lieutenants, including Campbell, are to receive the full pay of their ranks.

We publish in another column an article from the Cincinnati Gazette in regard to the consumption of gas. It is a matter of much interest here just now, and the subject has been called up in the city council.

Madame Schultz has been convicted at Cincinnati of producing an abortion and sentenced to confinement in the county jail for one year and a fine of $500.

The Butler (Penn.) American of Wednesday says:

Strange noises in the air, resembling thunder, have been heard at intervals during the last ten days, in various parts of this county. In some places, it is alleged, fiery substances have been seen flying with great velocity, and the concussion was so great as to shake the earth quite perceptibly.

The Washington (Pa.) Commonwealth says that a few evenings since the inhabitants of the northern part of our county were startled by the rolling of apparent distant thunder, which in some places was so violent as to sensibly shake the houses. At Paris a large meteoric ball passed over the village through the heavens and exploded. The same display of fire balls was witnessed at Wellsville across the Ohio, about the same time, accompanied with loud explosions and a sensible shaking of the earth. Many who did not see the meteoric balls thought they were experiencing the reverberations of an earthquake.

N. Y. Courier.

A gentleman, writing from some Western point, prescribes the following remedy for cold feet:

I think I have made the discovery of a remedy for cold feet. Take paper-old newspapers will do—one or two thicknesses, and wrap round your feet. Then draw on your hose, then your boots. Try it.

Lady Napier has met with a serious loss in the destruction of her wardrobe. While at dinner, a few days since, a fire broke out in her ladyship's dressing-room where were all of her dresses. Before the flames could be extinguished, the whole inflammable matter of flounces, silks, brocade, and muslin were reduced to ashes. The loss in dresses amounts to some $2,500.

The full requirements of a printing office were lately sent from Paris to Egypt for the use of the ladies in the harem of a Grand Pacha. The fair Georgians and Circassians are to set the types, do the press work, and all.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The special Kansas committee met on Wednesday. The result was much the same as before. Mr. Letcher of Va. was absent, having gone home sick.

Mr. Harris, the Chairman, stated that he had received two communications from the State Department, both of which were unimportant, and contained nothing unpublished except the census, which gave the population of one more county than the printed statement.

Mr. Morris offered a resolution calling for documents, among them for Walker's letter accepting the Governorship of Kansas, on condition of having control of the U. S. troops, commanded by General Harney, and with the express understanding that he was to advocate the submission of the constitution to the people. This resolution called also for other official Kansas correspondence, not yet transmitted to Congress. It was rejected by a tie vote.

Mr. Wallbridge, of Michigan, offered a resolution calling for the record of the Kansas election held on January 4th and of its votes and returns; also for an authenticated record of the Territorial Legislative Committee appointed to investigate election frauds. This, too, was rejected by a tie vote. Mr. Wade, of Ohio, offered a comprehensive resolution proposing an investigation into all the election frauds of Kansas. This was rejected by a tie vote.

EVENING BULLETIN.

FROM HALIFAX.—The Halifax Morning Journal of the 19th inst. says:

The starving condition of our fishermen along the coast ought to engage the immediate attention of the government and the legislature. Everything else should give way to this question of life and death, for really it has already come to that. We will only instance the case of one settlement—that of Turn's Bay, between Prospect and Sambro—where there are many families in absolute destitution of food and clothing. They don't know what it is to have a full meal of victuals. In the last season, with the exception of one man, who made a fortunate haul of mackerel, they caught literally nothing. He has helped his neighbors beyond his means, and now they are penniless, and famine stares them in the face from day to day. Other harbors may not be so totally destitute, but we fear are not much better.

ITALY.—The Sardinian Government has forwarded a note to the King of Naples relative to the affair of the Cagliari through Count Groppello, the Sardinian Minister at Naples. This note, through the intervention of the Western powers, is moderate. It discusses the question, but makes no threat against the Neapolitan Government. The Minister for Foreign Affairs has forwarded a circular to the consular agents residing in British possessions, instructing them as to the formalities they are to institute in respect to passports.

The Salerno correspondent of the London Times, writing respecting the trial of parties implicated in the Cagliari affair, thus describes the terrible inhumanities practised by the Italian authorities even upon the witnesses. His letter is dated February 3d:

The trial was resumed on Monday morning, and as these first days are occupied with the examination of the passengers and the crew of the Cagliari, the president always waits for the appearance of Her Britannic Majesty's acting consul and the Sardinian consul. Watt was again reported ill; he would not come except by force, and this the acting consul would not permit to be used, for fear of driving him into frenzy. In fact, he is in a state of mental agitation bordering on madness, and since the commencement of the trial has not slept at night, but walks his room in much excitement. At the commencement of the proceedings, Signor Lauria demanded that five of the passengers liberated as innocent some two months since might be permitted to appear in court; their evidence was of great value to the defense. They were now waiting instructions at Genoa. The Procurer General made no objection, and the demand was granted. Signor di Francesco, another advocate for the defense of the captain and crew of the Cagliari, then demanded that a diary of all the events which had occurred since the Cagliari left Genoa, and which diary was found on the body of one of the dead, should be shown to Nicotera in order to verify the handwriting.

This was deemed of great importance, for the general belief is that the diary was found on the body of Pisacane, and that its details contain a full exculpation of the captain and crew of the Cagliari; thus, in fact, nullifying the indictment against them and rendering void the confiscation of the Cagliari. The request was immediately rejected by the Procurer-General. The judges retired to consider, and shortly after returned and announced that, by a majority of six votes, the request had been rejected. Fifteen of the passengers of the vessel were then called in succession to hear their depositions read, and each was asked separately whether he had anything to add or correct. Every one protested against being styled "thieves" (ladriv) by the Procurer-General, adding that their own government would give them characters. Every one protested, too, against the barbarous treatment which he had received and the acts of robbery perpetrated upon the whole. Achille Perugia said: "I protest against the first deposition which was read, for when I made it I was more dead than alive."

"I protest, too, against the barbarities exercised upon us; we were robbed even of our shirts and shoes, were beaten with hatchets, and in Sanza 27 of my companions after surrender were massacred in cold blood." President: "You have heard it so said, perhaps?" Perugia: "No; I saw them murdered; I saw their bodies on the ground, and many of those wounded only were rolled over the cliffs, and thus terminated their lives." Giovanni Gagliani, a Milanese student, among other things protested against the atrocities practised against them. They had been left nothing but their trousers, had been buffeted and struck with axes; and in Padua 35 of their compatriots had been assassinated in cold blood, after surrendere. "I saw the acts committed, Signor President. Another word. You bring us down here in carriages—those who are foreigners—to 'appare' (content or impress) the world; it would be better to give us a blanket, for we are lying on straw on the bare ground, and are dying of cold." Procurer General: "You have everything that is right and desirable; besides, speak to the Commissioner ourselves several times. Better to give us a blanket to protect us from the cold than send us here in carriages. Beside we are accomplices like the rest, and we wish to share their fate. As to the barbarities committed, those wounded were rolled over the precipices of the mountains, and so ended the lives of Pisacane, Falcone, and others."

Similar evidence was given by others. All, too, united in exculpating the captain and crew of the Cagliari from all part in the conspiracy. There was a manifest eagerness on the part of all to do this, from Baron Nicotera downward. Their declarations were clear, precise, and repeated by several of them many times in such words as these: "We alone are guilty; we compelled the captain and the crew to act under our orders; we put them down below, and kept watch over them. The captain was greatly agitated, and suffered much in being deprived of the command of his vessel. He wept, and said he was a ruined man. When Pisacane went down below we heard a shout of joy on his having discovered the cases of arms. Not one of the crew had any knowledge of the participation in the conspiracy, which began with our taking forcible possession of the vessel." Such is the evidence of one of the officers in command of the expedition, and, up to this day, of 16 of the men engaged by Pisacane.
